

Remained Classes

Today (14th May (Tuesday)): Pragmatism

16th May (Thursday): Confucianism

21st May (Tuesday): Game Changer

23rd May (Thurs): Oral Presentation at random + mutual evaluation

28th May (Tues): Oral Presentation at random + mutual evaluation

30th May(Thurs): Oral Presentation at random + mutual evaluation

4th June (Tues): Oral Presentation at random + mutual evaluation

11th June (Tues): Final examination

Presentations of students with their 5th project, for less than 3 minutes; presentations will be evaluated by Jonas (TA) and Myself (50%), and other students (50%)

who is subject to present at four different dates will be randomly decided at the corresponding date

students have to submit their evaluation sheets at all the classes

5th Project (the last project), Class of Science Humanities distributed at 14th May, due at 21th May (at the class)

one-page report (without a cover page)

with only “QR code”, without name and student ID (QR코드만; 이름, 학생ID 넣지 않음)

Please remake your QR and attach on your project report!

Evaluation (due at 23rd May): Mutual evaluation among classmates, by clicking QR codes at least 3 up to 5 times

Topic: Design a model to tell persons into participating in movements of mitigating global warming in ways of pragmatism, behaviorism, and/or confucianism (using cartoon, figure, conceptual design idea, poster, or a simple format with minimum words or even without any word/text)

Behaviorism

Reference: About Behaviorism (1976), B.F. Skinner

Contingency of Survival (COS) & Contingency of Reinforcement (COR) Operant Behavior

Pragmatism

Reference, “Pragmatism” by William James